

Camping Policy

There is no fee for camping during show week.

There are no electrical hook-ups except for very restricted medical use. (Call for arrangements.)

Generators are allowed and low-noise inverter generators are preferred.

Camping spots are not designated and space is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The camping area is between Dunn Creek and the south fence line just beyond the Unity Church and extends from the east fence to the highway.

No camping is allowed between the Red Barn and Unity Church. (To preserve the historic visual effect.)

Driving pathways must be maintained to all campers.

A pathway to the Church and South Gate must be maintained for emergency access.

Distance between campers may be as little as 10 feet.

Camping outside the designated area is allowed with the approval of a board member. Contact registration in the two-story schoolhouse.

Enter the grounds through the south entrance on High St. Choose your spot. Then proceed to registration. Each adult must pay $20 for a two-day show pass. Registered exhibitors and registered workers will not need to pay admission. If you are camping during the week and work before and during the show, we will wave your entrance fee. Ask at registration. Wrist bands will be issued allowing you to come and go from the grounds.

Bring leveling blocks for your camper. Most of the spots are not flat.

Campfires are prohibited.

The Recreation Vehicle policy will be enforced on Saturday and Sunday of the show. Campers with Recreational Vehicles without permits may not travel north of the Dunn Creek bridge between the hours of 7AM -5PM on Saturday and Sunday. Passes are available at registration during the week and at the main gate on Saturday and Sunday for those who meet the criteria for a recreational vehicle pass.
